The Lochgoilhead Gala Day on Saturday 1st August 2015 from 12 noon to 4 pm will soon be upon us. This is a reminder that we hope you will be able to come and visit our stand/marquee to meet some of the committee members and find out more about what we are doing.

We also hope you will bring your friends as we have two competitions that will be running on the day with the prizes being awarded at 3.30 pm.

Guess how many Nuts there are in the Jar to win an HP Stream Tablet PC and Cormie, the Squirrel – well worth spending £1 for such prizes.

Treasure Hunt on a Grid Map of Cormonachan Woodlands to win an Activity Session for four people for three hours at Ardroy and six other prizes of Squirrels and Hedgehogs – again well worth spending £1 for these prizes.

Strawberries and Cream at £1.50 for those who don't leave it too late and great Cookies for 50p for two.

There will be Cambridge Favourite Strawberry and Hosta plants for sale and soft toy animals and key rings and buffs there too.

We have also prepared many display boards with a lot of photographs of Cormonachan Woodlands and its flora and fauna that include the trees, plants, red squirrels and of course humans – local primary school children from the past and now, visiting schools and volunteers.

In the autumn there will be some volunteer days for members who wish to help out with various tasks in the woodlands – more on this will be advised later after the summer.

The Committee of the Cormonachan Woodlands Association are grateful to Ardroy, Scotsts; Carrick Castle Boat Club and other benefactors for there help in bringing this stand together for the Gala Day and the great prizes.

We look forward to seeing the Association's Members visit our stand. All money raised will go towards the improvements and management of the Cormonachan Woodlands.
