Re: Upper Cormonachan Path Project

Dear Douglas:

As the owner/operator of Lochgoilhead Holidays as well as the author/publisher of the Loch Goil Trails Local Walking Guide, I want to write in support of the proposed Upper Cormonachan Path Project.

Walking is a major attraction bringing visitors from all over the world to our part of the Loch Lomond & Trossachs National Park. All my holiday home listings include links to the Loch Goil Trails Guide, and based on feedback, there is little doubt that guests are encouraged to book to come based on the quality of the local hiking trails.

The existing Cormonachan Woodlands are already in the guidebook. I know from guest feedback that the contemplation centre and squirrel hide are factors in people choosing to visit your woodlands. People like walking, but all the better it seems if there is something to go and see.

Your proposed plan to extend the path to waterfalls and the old village would add yet more reasons for people to come and visit.

I wish you success in bringing this to fruition and look forward to including it in the guide when it is a reality.

Regards:
